What is an Intensive Supervision Group Home?

Adelphoi has intensive supervision group homes for male and female youth, ages 12 to 18, that provide community-style living to chronically delinquent and dependent youth who cannot be placed in an unrestricted living environment. These high-risk youth are identified as chronic, serious, or violent offenders who can function appropriately in a less than secure setting. A staff-secure environment provides 24-hour supervision, seven days a week.
