

For Immediate Release: November 6, 2023

For More Information: Matthew Achtziger, matthew.achtziger@adelphoi.org

Adelphoi Receives Nonprofit of the Year Award from Greater Latrobe-Laurel Valley Chamber of Commerce

Latrobe, PA – The Greater Latrobe-Laurel Valley Regional Chamber of Commerce recently celebrated its 78th Annual Dinner and Awards Ceremony at the Fred M. Rogers Center, bestowing honors upon exceptional individuals and organizations. Among the awardees, Adelphoi was recognized as the Nonprofit of the Year, showcasing its profound impact and commitment to community service.

Karyn Pratt, Vice President of Marketing and Strategy Development, accepted the award on behalf of Adelphoi. She reiterated the shared responsibility of being a part of the same community, echoing the late Fred Rogers' belief that every child deserves the support of an adult. “We are part of the neighborhood and like Fred...we believe every child deserves to have one adult in their life,” said Pratt.

Briana Tomack, President and CEO of the Chamber, commended Adelphoi's significant contributions and its continuous efforts in making a positive difference in the community. The Chamber highlighted Adelphoi's pivotal role in the region, creating a lasting impact by fostering a sense of belonging and support for the youth.

Additional award winners included Jason Brinker, of Lopatich-Brinker Funeral Home, who won Small Business of the Year, Linda Chenet, who was recognized as Volunteer of the Year, and John Graziano, who was honored with the Community Service Award. The Chamber's board, members of committees, and volunteers were also recognized at the event.

Headquartered in Latrobe, Adelphoi offers outcome-based solutions for abused, neglected, delinquent and other at-risk children and their families through a continuum of treatment and education services that provide a foundation of hope for the future. Since its founding in 1971, Adelphoi has served over 60,000 at-risk youth and families.

###

Karyn Pratt, Vice President of Marketing and Strategy Development, pictured at center, accepted the award on behalf of Adelphoi