Sex Offender Residential Treatment Program
La Sa Quik

Sex Offender Residential Group Home - La Sa Quik

The Sex Offender Treatment Program at La Sa Quik is a community-based group home offering 24-hour supervision for youth with severe trauma histories who are non-violent, under-socialized, and at risk in other settings. The program emphasizes accountability and specialized treatment to prevent future sexual offenses and aggressive behavior, focusing on balancing the needs of the youth, the victim, and the community.

Program Overview

Sex Offender Treatment Programs have fully integrated the Balanced and Restorative Justice (BARJ) philosophy, ensuring balanced attention to the needs of the offender, the victim, and the community

All youth maintain an individual portfolio which documents and tracks their progress and accomplishments during the treatment process:

- Bedrooms are monitored with motion and zone alarms
- Staff to resident ratio is 1:6
- Family visitation assistance is provided
- Psychiatric services and medication management provided

Program Specifics

Comprehensive assessments at Adelphoi measure deviant sexual interest, cognitive distortions, and the risk of further acting out. Tools include polygraph testing, PTSD assessments, ABEL, SAI-J, CANS, FAST, and J-SOAP II, along with PHASE typology assessment. Adelphoi's trauma-informed care model fosters therapeutic communities, ensuring safety for both youth and staff. Treatment interventions include Reality Therapy, Choice Theory Group, Contingency Contracting, Aggression Replacement Training, Motivational Interviewing, and Values Clarification. Additionally, outpatient drug and alcohol counseling and PTSD counseling by certified professionals are available. Youth receive specialized counseling to address sexual offending, focusing on accountability, victim empathy, and developing healthy coping strategies.
